

Using ForeFlight and the iPad

A growing number of pilots are giving up paper charts and going to programs like ForeFlight. The first question I get from a pilot thinking of making the switch is "Is it legal?". We will answer that question and more. We will also show you a few tricks that we have learned over the past few years. We will be discussing its use in both VFR and IFR situations. This seminar will be good for the experienced ForeFlight user and the pilot that has never seen it but wants to decide if it is right for them. Bring your iPads and follow along.
